

Cleveland Architects

Daniel Farnam

Birth/Established: January 28, 1876 Death/Dissolved: April 6, 1954

Biography:

Daniel Farnam was educated at Buchtel College, and the Drexel Institute in Philadelphia. From 1901 until 1910 he was a draftsman at various Cleveland architectural offices. He worked as a draftsman and Supervising Engineer for Hubbell & Benes from 1910 until 1920. While with Hubbell and Benes he was the supervising engineer and contract manager for the Masonic Temple from 1920 until 1922. He worked as the construction engineer for Union Trust from 1922 until 1924. In 1924 he opened an office. In 1929 he was associated with architect Ralph E. Lawrence and occupied offices at 977 The Arcade.

Building List

Structure	Date	Address	City	State	Statue
Masonic Building	1926	3800-08 West 25th Street	Cleveland	OH	Standing
Archwood Avenue Congregational Church	1928	2800 Archwood Avenue	Cleveland	OH	Standing

Sources:

Steps: A Manual for Pastors and Building Committees, Daniel Farnam, AIA, Cleveland, OH, 1929.